PRIZES

The Woodford Prize, founded by the Hon. Stewart Lyndon Woodford, is of the value of one hundred dollars and will be given annually for the best English oration, both matter and manner of delivery being taken into account. The prize is in the form of a gold medal, but the winner may, if he chooses, receive instead the one hundred dollars in money.

The prize may be competed for under the following conditions:

1. The competition is open to any student in good standing who is to fulfil the requirements for graduation before the beginning of the second term of the following year, and who does not already hold a baccalaureate degree from this institution or from any other of like rank. No student may compete more than once.

2. Every competitor is required to submit, at the Registrar's office, at or before 12 o'clock noon of the day on which work is resumed after the Easter recess, an original oration upon a subject which shall have been previously approved by the head of the Department of Oratory and Debate.

3. The competing orations shall be limited to fifteen hundred words and shall be written with a typewriter.

4. The orations submitted shall be examined by a committee appointed by the President, and shall also be read by their authors before the committee, who shall select the best not exceeding six in number for delivery in public.

5. The contest for the prize shall be held on the evening of the first Friday in May, under the direction of the President of the University. The winner of the prize shall be determined, and the prize shall be awarded by a committee of three appointed by the President. The committee shall consist, whenever practicable, of persons not resident in Ithaca.

7. Two copies of each oration selected for the competition shall, within two weeks after the selection, be deposited by its author with the head of the Department of Oratory, who, after the completion of the competition, shall deposit one copy of each oration in the University Library.

The '86 Memorial Prize, the income of a sum of money left as a memorial by the class of 1886, and amounting to eighty-six dollars annually, is an undergraduate prize in declamation to be awarded at a public contest held in May of each year. The conditions of the contest are as follows:

1. The head of the Department of Oratory and Debate is empowered to select from the students who are pursuing or who have completed the work of a second term in public speaking, ten speakers whose general excellence, in his judgment, warrants their competing for the prize.

2. The contest for the prize shall be held on the evening of the third Friday in May, under the direction of the head of the Department of Oratory and Debate.

3. The prize shall be awarded by a committee appointed by the President of the University.

The '94 Memorial Prize, the income of a fund established by the class of 1894 and amounting to about ninety-four dollars annually, is an undergraduate prize in debate to be awarded at a public contest held in January of each year. The conditions governing the debate are as follows:

1. Any undergraduate student of Cornell University may become a competitor for this prize.
2. A committee appointed by the President shall select the debaters, not to exceed eight in number, to take part in the final competition.
3. The final competition shall be a public debate to be held annually, under the direction of the President of the University, on the evening of the 10th of January, unless that day shall fall upon a Sunday, in which case the debate shall be held on the evening of the 9th.
4. The question for each preliminary competition shall be selected by the head of the Department of Oratory and Debate and shall be publicly announced by him at least four weeks before the date set for each debate.
5. The prize shall be awarded by a committee of three judges appointed annually by the President of the University, to that competitor who shall be deemed by them the most effective debater, account being taken both of matter and of expression.
6. Any undergraduate who has already taken the prize may be selected by the committee as an additional speaker, but the prize may not be awarded to him.

The Barnes Shakespeare Prize. The Shakespeare Prize, founded in 1887 by Mrs. Alfred Smith Barnes, of Brooklyn, consists of about fifty dollars, the annual income from her gift of one thousand dollars. The prize may be competed for under the following conditions:

1. In accordance with the wish of the founder, competition is open to all undergraduates in the University. An undergraduate in the meaning of this clause is any person who is registered in Cornell University as a candidate for a first degree, and who has not already received an academic degree that would entitle him to register in the Graduate School.
2. A winner of the prize shall not be eligible for subsequent competition.
3. Each competitor shall submit a prose essay of his own composition, not more than eight thousand words in length.
4. In accordance with the wish of the founder, the essays must be upon the writings of Shakespeare. The choice of subject is left to the discretion of the writer.
5. Essays submitted in competition must be typewritten, on one side of paper $8 \times 10\frac{1}{2}$ inches in size, and double-spaced. Only minor corrections may be made in writing; corrections involving five or more words must be typewritten. Each essay must be signed with an assumed name. The real name is to be enclosed in a sealed envelope, superscribed with the assumed name.
6. The essays and envelopes are to be deposited with the Registrar at or before 12 o'clock noon of April 15th of each year.
7. The essays shall be read and the prize awarded by a committee of three professors, appointed each year by the President from the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.
8. The successful essay shall be deposited by the Secretary of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences in the University Library and the library rules regarding the circulation of manuscripts shall apply thereto. The University reserves the right of publishing the essay.

9. In case none of the essays submitted in any given year shall, in the judgment of the committee, reach a sufficiently high degree of excellence, the prize will not be awarded.

The Guilford Essay Prize, founded in 1902 by the late James B. Guilford to promote "a high standard of excellence in English prose composition," consists of about $150, the annual income from his bequest of $3,000. The prize may be competed for under the following conditions:

1. Competition is open to all undergraduates in the University. An undergraduate in the meaning of this clause is any person who is registered in Cornell University as a candidate for a first degree and who has not already received an academic degree that would entitle him to register in the Graduate School.

2. A winner of the prize shall not be eligible for subsequent competition.

3. Each competitor must submit a prose essay of his own composition, not less than five thousand nor more than eight thousand words in length.

4. The choice of the subject is left to the discretion of the writer.

5. Essays offered in competition must be typewritten, on one side of paper 8 x 10½ inches in size, and double-spaced. Only minor corrections may be made in writing; corrections involving five or more words must be typewritten. Each essay must be signed with an assumed name. The real name of the competitor is to be enclosed in a sealed envelope, superscribed with the assumed name.

6. The essays and envelopes are to be deposited with the Registrar at or before 12 o'clock noon of the first Monday of March of each year.

7. The essays shall be read and the prize awarded by a committee of three professors, appointed each year by the President from the University Faculty.

8. The successful essay shall be deposited by the Secretary of the University Faculty in the University Library and the library rules regarding the circulation of manuscripts shall apply to this essay. The University reserves the right of publishing the essay.

9. It is a condition imposed by the donor "that in case none of the essays submitted in any given year shall, in the judgment of the Faculty, reach a high standard of literary excellence, the prize shall not be awarded, and the income for that year shall be constituted a special scholarship to be assigned to that graduate student at the University, who, in the judgment of the Faculty, writes the best English prose."

The Corson French Prize, founded in 1902, by Professor Hiram Corson, in memory of his wife, Caroline Rollin Corson, consists of a gold medal of the value of fifty dollars, to be awarded annually for the best competitive essay on a subject in either French Philology or Literature. If the winner so desires, he may receive the value of the prize in money. The prize may be competed for under the following conditions:

1. Competition is open to undergraduates and to graduate students, who, in addition to the advanced French requirements, have satisfactorily pursued at least five hours of French at this University.

2. The subjects shall be assigned by the head of the Department of the Romance Languages and Literatures in accordance with the directions of the founder contained in his letter of donation.

3. The winner of the prize shall not be eligible for subsequent competition.

4. The essays must be typewritten, on one side of paper 8 x 10½ inches in size, and double-spaced, and shall contain not less than 3,000 words. Only minor corrections may be made in writing; corrections involving five or more words must be typewritten. Each essay must be signed with an assumed name. The real name is to be enclosed in a sealed envelope superscribed with the assumed name.

5. The essays and envelopes are to be deposited with the Registrar at or before 12 o'clock noon of April 15th of each year.

6. The essays shall be read and the prize awarded by a committee of three professors appointed each year by the President from the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. In accordance with the wish of the founder of the prize, the Professor of the Romance Languages and Literatures shall always be a member of this committee.

7. The successful essay shall be deposited by the Secretary of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences in the University Library and the library rules regarding the circulation of manuscripts shall apply to this essay. The University reserves the right of publishing the essay.

8. In case none of the essays in any year shall, in the judgment of the committee, reach a sufficiently high degree of excellence, the prize will not be awarded.

The Corson Browning Prize. The Browning Prize, founded in 1902 by Professor Hiram Corson, consists of a gold medal of the value of fifty dollars, to be awarded annually for the best competitive essay on Robert Browning. If the winner so desires, he may receive the value of the prize in money. The prize may be competed for under the following conditions:

1. Competition shall be open to junior, senior, and graduate students.

2. The subjects shall be assigned by the head of the Department of English in accordance with the directions of the founder contained in his letter of donation.

3. A winner of the prize shall not be eligible for subsequent competition.

4. The essays must be typewritten, on one side of paper 8 x 10½ inches in size, and double-spaced. Only minor corrections may be made in writing; corrections involving five or more words must be typewritten. Each essay must be signed with an assumed name. The real name is to be enclosed in a sealed envelope superscribed with the assumed name.

5. The essays and envelopes are to be deposited with the Registrar at or before 12 o'clock noon of April 15th of each year.

6. The essays shall be read and the prize awarded by a committee of three professors appointed each year by the President from the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. In accordance with the wish of the founder of the prize, the head of the Department of English shall always be a member of this committee.

7. The successful essay shall be deposited by the Secretary of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences in the University Library and the library rules regarding the circulation of manuscripts shall apply thereto. The University reserves the right of publishing the essay.

8. In case none of the essays in any year shall, in the judgment of the committee, reach a sufficiently high degree of excellence, the prize will not be awarded.

The Luana L. Messenger Memorial Prize, the annual income of a fund of $1,000, founded by Mr. Hiram J. Messenger, will be awarded in accordance with the terms of the gift, to that student of the University who submits the essay "giving evidence of the best research and most fruitful thought in the field of human progress or the evolution of civilization during some period in human history or during human history as a whole."

The conditions governing the award are as follows:

1. Competition is open to all students of the University.
2. The choice of subject within the field prescribed by the founder as quoted above is left to the discretion of the writer.
3. Essays offered in competition must be typewritten on one side of paper 8 x 10½ inches in size, and double spaced. Only minor corrections may be made in writing; corrections involving five or more words must be typewritten. Each essay must be signed with an assumed name. The real name of the competitor is to be enclosed in a sealed envelope, superscribed with the assumed name.

4. Two copies of the essay, one of which may be a carbon copy, and the sealed envelope are to be deposited with the Registrar at or before 12 o'clock noon of May 1st of each year.

5. The essays shall be examined and the prize awarded by a committee of three appointed by the President from the University Faculty.

6. One copy of the successful essay shall be deposited by the Secretary of the University Faculty in the University Library and the library rules regarding the circulation of manuscripts shall apply to this copy. The other copy shall be forwarded to the founder.

7. The University reserves the right of publishing the essay at its discretion, or of authorizing its publication.

8. In case none of the essays in any year shall, in the judgment of the committee, reach a sufficiently high degree of excellence, the prize will not be awarded.

The Sherman-Bennet Prize was founded by Philo Sherman-Bennett of New Haven, who, by provision in his will, bequeathed to William J. Bryan, of Lincoln, Nebraska, a fund to found prizes in twenty-five colleges or universities to be selected by him. The prize, consisting of the income of $400, to be awarded "for the best essay discussing the principles of free government," may be competed for under the following conditions:

1. Competition is open to all students of the University.
2. The choice of subject within the field prescribed by the founder as quoted above is left to the discretion of the writer.
3. The winner of the prize shall not be eligible for subsequent competitions.
4. Essays offered in competition must be typewritten on one side of paper 8 x 10½ inches in size, and double-spaced. Only minor corrections may be in writing; corrections involving five or more words must be typewritten. Each essay must be signed with an assumed name. The real name of the competitor is to be enclosed in a sealed envelope, superscribed with the assumed name.

5. The essays and envelopes are to be deposited with the Registrar at or before 12 o'clock noon of April 15th in each year.

6. The essay shall be examined and the prize awarded by a committee of three appointed each year by the President from the University Faculty.

7. The successful essay shall be deposited by the Secretary of the University Faculty in the University Library and the library rules regarding the circulation of manuscripts shall apply thereto. The University reserves the right of publishing the essay.

8. In case none of the essays shall, in the judgment of the committee, reach a sufficiently high degree of excellence the prize will not be awarded, the unexpended income for the year being added to the principal.

The Frances Sampson Fine Arts Prize. This prize, founded in 1909 by Professor Martin Sampson in memory of his wife, Frances VanRensselaer Sampson, is awarded "to that student in the University who shows the most intelligent appreciation of the graphic and plastic arts and architecture." The prize is not given for practical proficiency in painting, drawing, or designing, but for natural or acquired ability to appreciate artistic beauty. The prize, of about thirty dollars to be expended in books or reproductions, is awarded sometime in April under regulations administered by the Professor of Esthetics. For the present, the competition will consist of a written criticism of a number of reproduced masterpieces of the fine arts displayed in the room in which the competition is held. These criticisms are to be passed upon and the prize awarded by a committee of three appointed by the President.

The competition will be held between 2 p. m. and 5 p. m. on the fourth Saturday in April, and students desiring to compete must give their names to the Registrar at or before 12 o'clock noon of the second Saturday in April.

The J. T. Morrison Prize, founded by Mr. J. T. Morrison, of Ithaca, and consisting of a gold medal of the value of $100 or of $100 in cash at the option of the successful competitor, will be given annually for the best original poem, or poems, matter and manner of delivery being taken into account.

The prize may be competed for under the following conditions.

1. Any regularly registered student who does not already hold a first degree may be a competitor.

2. Every competitor is required to submit, at the Registrar's office at or before 12 o'clock noon of March 1, an original poem or poems.

3. The competing poems must be typewritten.

4. The prize shall be awarded by a committee of three to be appointed by the professors of the Department of English.

5. The reading of the successful poem or poems will be held on the evening of the second Friday after the Easter recess, under the directions of the President of the University.

6. The poems shall be read either by their authors or by other readers appointed by the committee.

7. After the completion of the competition the successful poem or poems shall be deposited in the University Library and the library rules regarding the circulation of manuscripts shall apply thereto.

8. In case none of the poems in any year shall, in the judgment of the committee reach a sufficiently high degree of excellence, the prize will not be awarded.

The Horace K. White Prizes. These prizes, established by Horace K. White, Esq., of Syracuse, are awarded annually to the most meritorious students in the graduating class of the New York State Veterinary College, as follows: to the first in merit, fifteen dollars; to the second in merit, ten dollars.

Sibley Prizes in Mechanic Arts. Under the gift of the late Hon. Hiram Sibley, made in 1884, the sum of one hundred dollars will be annually awarded to those students in the Sibley College who shall, in the opinion of the Faculty of that institution, show the greatest merit in Sibley College work.

The Fuertes Medals, founded by Professor E. A. Fuertes and consisting of two gold medals, each of the value of one-half the amount of the income provided by the endowment fund, will be awarded under the following conditions.

One of these medals will be awarded annually by the University Faculty to that student of the College of Civil Engineering who shall be found, at the time of graduation, to have maintained the highest degree of scholarship in the courses of his college, provided he has been in attendance in the University for at least two years; and the other medal will be awarded annually by the Faculty to that graduate of the College of Civil Engineering who shall write a meritorious paper upon some engineering subject tending to advance the scientific or practical interests of the profession of the civil engineer. Papers shall be presented on or before April 15th. If a paper is submitted in printed form, it will not be received if it has been printed earlier than the next preceding April 15th.

Neither medals shall be awarded unless it appears to the Faculty of the College of Civil Engineering that there is a candidate of sufficient merit to entitle him to such distinction. Candidates will annually be nominated to the University Faculty by the College of Civil Engineering.

When no medal is awarded, the money thus left unexpended shall be added to the principal of the Fuertes fund; or it may, at the discretion of the Board of Trustees, be given to aid needy and meritorious students of any college or department of the University.

The Clifton Beckwith Brown Memorial Medal was founded by Mr. John Harkness Brown in memory of his brother Clifton Beckwith Brown, killed on the field of battle at San Juan Hill. A silver replica is awarded to the senior in the College of Architecture attaining the highest standing in design during his senior year, and a bronze replica to the senior taking second place. These medals however are not awarded solely for order of merit, the award being withheld unless the standard reached in design is considerably higher than that required for mere graduation.

The Charles Goodwin Sands Memorial Medal, founded by the family of the late Charles Goodwin Sands of the class of '90, is awarded for designs of exceptional merit presented in the regular competitions in the College of Architecture. The medal drawings are ranked as first and second medal drawings, according to merit. The author of a first medal drawing will receive a silver replica and the author of a second medal drawing a bronze replica of the medal. The award is for merit alone and while the medal is occasionally won by undergraduates the standard is such that the honor of winning the first medal usually falls to graduate students only.

The Eastman Prize for Public Speaking. With the object of developing qualities of personal leadership in rural affairs, Mr. A. R. Eastman of Waterville, New York, has established in the College of Agriculture an annual prize of one hundred dollars for public speaking on country life subjects. This prize is designated as the Eastman Prize for Public Speaking. Competition is open to any regular or special student.

The Robert T. Morris Prize in Nut Culture. A prize of twenty-five dollars to be awarded annually to the student in the course in nut culture, in the College of Agriculture, who displays the best ability in propagating nut trees. The prize is offered by Dr. Robert T. Morris of New York City, Trustee of Cornell University, and donor of the Morris collection of nuts in the Department of Horticulture.

The John Metcalfe Polk Prizes. In commemoration of John Metcalfe Polk, an instructor in the Medical College, who graduated from the Medical Department of Cornell University on June 7, 1889, and died on March 29, 1904, an annual prize of $500 will be presented at each Commencement to the members of the graduating class who have completed the full course of study in Cornell University Medical College. This prize will be awarded as follows: to the student having the highest standing, $300; to the student having the second highest standing, $125; to the student having the third highest standing, $75.

The Dana Prizes. Two prizes, one of $50 and another of $25, are offered by Professor Dana to the students of the graduating class of the Medical College, to be designated by him, who make the two best reports of neurological cases seen during the course, provided that the reports submitted possess sufficient merit to warrant the award.

The Hollingsworth Honorarium for Research. An honorarium of fifty dollars for advanced work or research in pathology and bacteriology established by Dr. W. G. Hollingsworth of Utica, is awarded to a senior in the Veterinary College on his general standing in the work of the first two years and his proficiency in the first courses in pathology and bacteriology. It requires that the student receiving it shall do satisfactory work in these subjects during his senior year.

The Whiting Prizes. Two prizes, the first of $50, the second of $25, are offered by Professor Whiting to the two students of the graduating class of the Medical College, to be designated by him, who make the best records in the practical and theoretical work in otology.

The Fuertes Memorial Prizes in Public Speaking, founded by Charles H. Baker, a graduate of the College of Civil Engineering of the class of 1886, consisting of $100 and $20 respectively, are awarded annually to those members of the junior and senior classes in the College of Engineering and Architecture, who may be selected after competitive trial, as especially proficient in public speaking. The orations delivered in competition for these prizes are to be original compositions on technical subjects. In making the awards both the character of the argument and the manner of delivery will be considered. The prizes may be competed for under the following conditions:

1. The competition is open to seniors and juniors in the Colleges of Engineering and Architecture.

2. The competition will be held on the evening of the third Friday in April.

3. Candidates are required to submit and read, before a duly appointed committee, a letter of not more than 400 words giving an outline of their proposed argument and purposes of their address on Monday of the same week as the competition. Not more than eight competitors will then be selected for the final competition, the choice being based on the character and force of the letters submitted.

4. The speeches delivered in the competition shall be original in character. Any subject may be chosen by the individual competitor that may seem to him best suited to furnish an opportunity for persuasive argument. Questions relating to his profession that would naturally come before semi-technical or non-technical commissions, boards of directors, and conventions, are of peculiar fitness. In making the award, both the character of the argument and the manner of presentation will be considered.

5. The delivery shall be without notes but illustrating material such as diagrams, plans, models or lantern slides may be used. Each speech shall be limited to 15 minutes.

6. The prizes shall be awarded by a committee consisting of five members, one selected by each college concerned, one selected by the Department of Oratory and one selected by the President of the University from the Board of Public Works, bankers, or other men prominent in business in the city of Ithaca.

7. Any student who has already received the first prize shall not be eligible for subsequent competition.

The Japan Society Prizes. Through the generosity of Mr. Jacob H. Schiff, the Japan Society of New York is enabled to offer two prizes of $75 and $25 respectively for the best essays or articles on Japan, Japanese-American relations, or similar topics. The prizes may be competed for under the following conditions:

1. Competition is open to any student of Cornell University.

2. The essays and articles submitted in competition should be not less than two thousand or more than five thousand words in length. They should be type-written or written clearly on one side of paper 8 x 10½ inches in size. Each essay must be signed with an assumed name, the name and address of the author to be enclosed in a sealed envelope attached to the manuscript.

3. Essays and articles are to be filed with the Registrar of the University not later than May 1st of the year of the award.

4. The award of the prizes will be made at Commencement.

5. The Japan Society reserves to itself the disposition of the winning essays for the purpose of their publication but will return to their authors any manuscripts not published.

5. Copies of the essays shall be deposited in the University Library by the Secretary of the University Faculty.

6. Should no second essay be deemed worthy of a prize, the amount of the second prize will be added to that of the first and the entire sum awarded to the winner of the first prize.

The Jane Miller Prize of $50.00 in veterinary physiology is awarded to the student or students having the highest standing in this subject.

The Lora C. Schroeder Prize of $50.00 is awarded to the student or students doing the best work on the diseases of small animals. This may be divided into the first prize of $30 and the second of $20, at the discretion of the department.

The James Gordon Bennett Prize of $50.00 is offered for work done on local and generalized anæsthesia.

The Early English Text Society Prizes. The Early English Text Society annually donates four of its publications to be awarded as prizes to the students passing the best examinations in Early English. For particulars regarding the conditions on which these prizes are awarded, students should consult the head of the Department of English.

THE GRADUATE PRIZE IN PHILOSOPHY

(1) The Graduate Prize in Philosophy has an annual value of about $25, and is open for competition to all students registered in the Graduate School of Cornell University.

(2) The prize will be awarded to the graduate student who submits the best paper embodying the results of research in the field of philosophy. To be acceptable, the paper must show independent scholarship and research in dealing with philosophical ideas. The subject of the paper may be either historical or critical and constructive in character. It may be concerned either with problems of pure philosophy or with the philosophical bearing of the concepts and methods employed in mathematics or in any of the natural or humanistic sciences.

(3) Papers submitted in competition must be deposited in the office of the Dean of the Graduate School on or before the first day of May. Each paper is to be typewritten, and must bear a fictitious signature and be accompanied by the name of the writer in a sealed envelope.

(4) The prize will be awarded by a committee appointed by the President of the University. A copy of the successful paper is to be deposited in the University Library by the Dean of the Graduate School.

The George Chapman Caldwell Prize of fifty dollars, established by Mrs. Grace Caldwell Chamberlin and Professor Frank Chamberlin as a memorial to their father.

The prize is to be awarded annually in money and accompanied by a certificate or parchment to a member of the Senior Class for general excellence in Chemical work, the award to be made by the staff of the Chemical Department.
